COUNT ONE

The United States Attorney charges:

From in or about May 2006 up to and including on or about March 19, 2007, in the Southern District of New York and elsewhere, KEVIN BROWN, the defendant, being a person required to register under a State sexual offender registration program, unlawfully, willfully, and knowingly, did change address to a State other than the State in which he resided at the time of his immediately preceding registration, and did establish a new residence in that State, without registering within ten days or at any time thereafter with the Federal Bureau of Investigation ("FBI") and the State in which his new residence was established, to wit, BROWN moved from New Jersey to New York and did not notify the authorities in New Jersey or New York, or the FBI, or otherwise take steps to update his required registration.

(Title 42, United States Code, Sections 14072(g)(3) and (i)(1).)
